Workshop Opportunity

Sally has agreed to teach a 3-day workshop "The Color of Light", while she is in town to judge for awards. The workshop will be held Friday Sept 29—Sunday Oct 1, at the Tim Murphy Art Gallery. Cost of workshop is $425 which includes breakfast, lunch & snacks. A $100 deposit will hold your place with balance due August 28. Workshop is limited to 15 participants. Workshop will be focusing on color and light. Sally discusses optical mixing of layered color and to truly see and identify color, especially subtle color. The effects of light on color, composition and perception as well as different light sources are explored. Demonstrations, lectures and a slide show are designed to give students tools to achieve intensely beautiful color. This workshop is designed for the beginner to professional. The demos will be given in pastel only. Painting from still life and costumed models, each student will receive individual instruction and critiques.
