Senior Movies Synopsis of the Movies – November/December 2019

Fighting with My Family- The family that fights together, stays together. Headed by reformed gangster Ricky, his wife Julia, and their two kids Zak and Paige, the Bevis family barely gets by wrestling for small audiences at dinky venues. When Zak and Paige have the once in a lifetime chance to audition for the WWE, the family has to navigate the trials that come with the bright lights and big money that comes with fame.

The Command- Almost two decades ago, the news cycle was suddenly awash with stories of the Kursk. The Russian nuclear submarine was located in the Barents Sea when an explosion occurred during a routine test. After that, another explosion happened in rapid succession. And it wasn't long before the families and friends of those onboard were fearing for their lives. It's known as one of the most famous maritime disasters of all time; this is the story of what happened under the murky waters.

The Biggest Little Farm-For one documentary filmmaker, John Chester, and his wife Molly, the dream has always been to get out of Los Angeles and live a simpler life. Although the journey starts out idyllic, it quickly becomes obvious that things are going to become a lot more difficult than they ever anticipated. Surrounded by roosters, pigs and other types of pets, they will face the wrath of Mother Nature as they attempt to build their sustainable farm. Although they're only 200 miles away from L.A., they may as well be a world apart from the life they once knew.

Rocketman- Known all across the planet as a fearless fighter for social issues, Elton John is a true legend. His songs, which are all steeped in his generous spirit, have touched multiple generations of people. But life hasn't always been easy for Elton. Born in a time when expressing one's sexuality is verboten, John fights the pretense that he can't live his life out in the open. With an astonishing musical gift encouraged by his mother, though, he is fated to step into the spotlight-and stay there. His skyrocketing body of work provides inspiration and hope to all who listen.

Late Night- From Amazon Studios- As the most successful female talk show host of all time, Katherine has won over 40 Emmy awards. However, not even her impressive track record can help her when the media starts buzzing about the fact that she's only hired white men. Meanwhile, an Indian-American woman named Molly strives to break out of her STEM career and reach for the ultimate reward, a comedy gig. Through a series of wild events, Molly finds herself in the writers' room for the biggest show on late night TV.

Yesterday- An indie singer-songwriter, Jack Malik, loves The Beatles and performs covers of their songs. Yet, Jack is tired of living under their shadow. Jack keeps trying to achieve fame with his own songs and talent, but falls short. He tells his best friend, a school teacher named Ellie, that he fears that he might never succeed. Then, one night, a global blackout occurs while Jack is riding his bike home. He's hit by a bus, but doesn't sustain any serious injuries. Soon after, while singing another Beatles cover song for his friends and family, he discovers that no one remembers the band. Jack has entered an alternate Earth timeline. As Jack tries to share the beauty of The Beatles work with others, even if under his own name, he must decide if the fame he always wanted is what he actually needs to be happy.

The Christmas Chronicles- A Netflix Original-Teddy and Kate Pierce are the ultimate sister and brother act. They may be small, but they are mighty. When these siblings combine forces, it's rare for them not to accomplish their goals. And this Christmas, their goal is to capture on camera one of the most elusive figures of all time, Santa Claus himself. When their plan quickly backfires, however, suddenly the two find that they have embarked upon the adventure of a lifetime.
